

"We do not believe such political statements should be disguised as news content."

Such were the words of Sinclair Broadcasting when it arbitrarily decided not to air a tribute to our fallen soldiers in Iraq just a few short weeks ago.

My how things change.

This blatant attempt on the part of Sinclair to bypass federal law and regulation in an effort to attack one political candidate must be stopped. Their "donation" of airtime for a glorified attack ad while "trying to claim that it is merely a "news" story is proposterous, and everyone - including Sinclair - knows it. But they apparently feel that the FCC is toothless and cannot stop them from their attempt to influence this election illegally.

I urge you to please show them that they are wrong in that assumption.
